Jr. Hi PTA Meets Tuesday, October 9

The Greenbelt Junior High School PTA's first meeting of the year will take place Tuesday, October 9, at 8 p.m. Parents are asked to come early to register. The school's entire faculty, as well as the officers and committee chairman of the PTA, will be on hand to meet the membership.

A special program for seventh-grade parents, introducing them to the junior high curriculum with emphasis on the CORE program, will be conducted by the seventh-grade teachers. Parents of eighth- and ninth-graders will have an opportunity during this time to visit home rooms and talk to their children's teachers. Refreshments will be provided by the home economics classes and by Greenbelt Consumer Services.

Woman's Club Meets Thursday, October 11

The Greenbelt Woman's Club will hold its first membership meeting of the year on Thursday, October 11, in the social hall of Community Church. "Knowledge is Power," the year's slogan for the national federation, representing a new emphasis on adult education, will be featured in a "What Every Woman Should Know" contest at the monthly business meetings of the club. Each member will be asked to write the answer to a question of general interest on such subjects as cancer prevention, the selection for October; answers will be tallied by the members of the board, and the two highest scorers will receive an award at the annual meeting in April.

Hostess chairman for Thursday's meeting is Mrs. Nelson Chapman, assisted by Mrs. Allan Chotiner, Mrs. Wilton Dickerson, Miss Elizabeth Goetze, Mrs. Earl Knickelbein, Mrs. Marjorie Muir, Mrs. Louis Moody, Mrs. Frank Riley, Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Everett Warwick. Music will be presented by Miss Goetze and Mrs. Donald Kern.

The club's board will hold its first meeting tonight at the home of Mrs. Donald Romer, 16-K Ridge, at 8 p.m.

High Point Patrons

This week is patron week at High Point high school. Anyone wishing to contribute to the campaign to help support the yearbook may do so by calling Fran Riley, TOWER 9-9618. For a nominal fee, you will not only have your name included in the book, but you will be helping to make a bigger and better yearbook possible.

Fire Prevention Week Stresses Education

When a telephone instrument tells the number to call—that's news. The Greenbelt Fire Department will make this possible, beginning next Monday, with the distribution of the Prince Georges County Fire Board telephone number, UNion 4-1122. The number will be on decals to be pasted onto the telephone, and is to be called for fire or rescue emergency. Its use will save valuable time. The number "1" must be dialed as usual.

The decals and fire prevention literature will be left at each home in Greenbelt when the men of the Fire Department make these friendly calls as part of the Fire Prevention Week Program, October 7-13. The theme this year, fire prevention education for grade school children, will first be emphasized this week when Robert Mogel, secretary of the Fire Prevention Committee, will speak to the various PTA meetings in Greenbelt.

Prizes are also being offered for the best slogans and posters by grade school children. These slogans and posters will be displayed in the GCS food store as part of a special "Sparky" exhibit. Sparky, in this case, is being manufactured, painted and erected by Joe D'Agostino and George Ronchi.

Movies will be shown at the schools next Wednesday and the fire equipment demonstrations and rides will be arranged to fit the schedules of each of the three schools in Greenbelt. The choice of prize winning posters and slogans, and awards of the trophy for the school accomplishing most in fire prevention activities during this period, will be made late in the week.

GVHC Adopts New Sales Procedures; Hires Licensed Real Estate Broker

By Al Skolnik

Making few changes, the board of directors of the Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation voted unanimously at its September 28 meeting to adopt the Lastner committee's recommendations on uniform procedures and policies to be followed by the GVHC sales department and other real estate brokers in the purchase and sale of homes. Copies of the procedures and forms will be available shortly at the GVHC sales office upon request.

"The Last of the Comanches" in color, starring Broderick Crawford and Barbara Hale is scheduled for Wednesday, October 10. Showtime is 9 p.m.

Vice Commander Paul Cherry says the 1957 dues campaign is coming along fine; but that does not mean we're satisfied. At the last business meeting we learned that our Post Tax to National Headquarters was being raised to fifty cents per member on October 20; however, if we can get as many 1957 dues in as possible before that time our tax will only be twenty-five cents per member, thus saving the post a considerable amount of money. Annual dues remain the same. It is only the Department and National tax on the post itself that is being raised.

Veterans, if any of you need information or aid, Mr. H. A. Kurth, Rehabilitation Chairman, is at the Post Home every Monday from 8:30 to 9:00 p.m. He will do everything in his power, with the full cooperation of the post, to alleviate your problems. After all, one of our greatest duties is to serve the Veteran.

St. Hugh's P-TG Starts 1956-57 School Season

Over 150 members attended the first meeting of St. Hugh's Parents-Teachers Guild Tuesday, September 18.

The guild approved a budget of $600.00 for the year, to be raised by membership dues of $1.00 and money-raising projects. A plan for serving breakfast for the students making the nine First Fridays was also approved.

Over seventy-five parents answered president A. C. Long's call for workers by volunteering to serve on the standing committees or as room mothers and fathers. Officers and committee chairmen include Henrietta Haslinger, first vice president; Joseph Kuntz, second vice president; Mrs. Peter Evansky, secretary; Dorothy Holland, treasurer; Frances McNally, chairman of the hospitality committee; Mrs. Joseph Ready, health committee; and Bernie Emmert, sports and recreation committee. Still to be appointed are chairmen for the grievance, transportation and program committees.

St. Hugh's school has an enrollment of 410 children this year.

Workshops Slated For Youth Leaders

A crafts workshop for volunteer leaders of youth-serving groups will be conducted by the Prince Georges County Recreation Department in October and November. The workshop will be held at Suitland high school on Tuesdays, October 2 through November 27, and at Northwestern high school on Thursdays, October 4 through November 29, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The workshop, under the direction of two crafts specialists, will offer a variety of projects designed for leaders working with young children, such as cub scouts, brownies and girl scouts. For further information call the recreation department, APpleton 7-8696.

At the same time, GVHC President Ed Burgoon announced, with the board's concurrence, the appointment of Mrs. Helen C. Ditman as sales officer for the corporation. Mrs. Ditman, a local attorney, has been authorized to represent GVHC as a real estate broker. She recently passed the Maryland real estate broker's tests, and her name is to be inserted in the real estate license issued to GVHC. Such a license is required, according to the ruling of the State Attorney General, if GVHC is to continue to sell homes and collect commissions.

In presenting the Lastner report to the board, Burgoon emphasized that the recommendations represented the end product of four months of deliberate and careful study by a committee of four, consisting of Chairman Frank Lastner and Directors Al Long, Bruce Bowman, and John Pharris. Burgoon added that two reputable Washington real estate brokers reviewed the recommendations and made only minor criticisms.

Approved Methods

In adopting new sales procedures, the board also restated two basic rights of GVHC members with regard to the sale of their units. First, the right of a member to select any legitimate means available to him to sell his house—he may sell it himself, or through the GVHC sales office, or through a licensed real estate broker. Second, the right of a member to sell his own selling price and to sell his house for whatever price the market will bring, as long as the purchaser assumes the unpaid balance and meets the reasonable requirements of the corporation.

The new sales procedures call for the distribution of material to all prospective buyers explaining the nature of mutual home ownership, the organizational structure of GVHC, and the rules regarding occupancy and sales. Sellers and agents for the seller (whether GVHC or a broker) are required to furnish purchaser with worksheets giving such pertinent financial data for the individual housing unit as GVHC book basis, initial down payment, unpaid balance of GVHC contract, 3% capital investment, improvements and commission, monthly charges, and membership and transfer fees. Prospective buyers would be made aware of the necessity of a membership interview, of obtaining credit and board approval, and of the time required for processing. Any deviations from these procedures are to be acted upon by the board.

Itemize Improvements?

Only one item suggested by the committee created lengthy discussion. The committee recommended that the worksheet include space for the itemization of the improvements and the value attributed to them by the seller. Because the board was uncertain whether such itemization would help or hinder sales, the board decided that listing of improvements and their value be left at the option of the seller.

In other action, the board approved a motion by Director Hans Jorgensen that GVHC notify the city of its readiness to join with the city in financing next year's landscaping program on a matching dollar-for-dollar basis up to a specified maximum. Jorgensen reported that City Manager McDonald has agreed to present such a program to the city council. Plans call for the planting of flowering trees and shrubs on GVHC common property and city right-of-ways.

SKATING SCHEDULE

Only those who are in seventh grade or thirteen years old are eligible for skating at the Youth Center.
